DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-20 are pending in the instant application.

Response to Arguments

2. The remarks filed on September 8, 2008 have been fully considered, however, they are not found to be persuasive for the reasons provided below. The following grounds of rejection are maintained and hereby made FINAL: a) 35 USC 112 2nd paragraph rejection due to the presence of the term "fatty acid-derived" (Section 4); b) 35 USC 102 rejection (Section 5); c) 35 USC 103 rejection (Section 6).

Note: Section numbers refer to those from the office action dated June 9, 2008.

3. Below are responses to Applicant's remarks:

- a) "Accordingly, the term "fatty acid-derived nitrile" is directed to a nitrile derived from a fatty acid. The specification itself states, "[f]atty nitriles, those derived from fatty acids" (Specification, page 1, line 7)."
Applicant's remarks have been considered. However, it is maintained that the examples provided do not delineate a scope for the claimed invention.
- b) "Here, the Office has rejected the pending claims as anticipated by Frank, in direct contradiction to the distinguishing features identified in the International Preliminary Examination Report issued on PCT application PCT/EP03/12834, for which the present application is a National Stage application. As set forth in the Report, "D2 [i.e. Frank] differs from the present application in that in the former [i.e. in Frank], no acid layer is formed and therefore, of course, an acid layer is not separated from said solution."
Applicant's remarks have been considered. The examination of the instant application is independent of the international preliminary examination referenced by Applicant. It is maintained that the art rejections of the instant claims over US 4,575,434 are proper. As discussed in the previous office action, the reference teaches addition of acid to a solution of amide and nitrile, although it does not expressly disclose the formation of an acid layer.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
